

For 93 years, Hayes Large Architects has supported its clients while adapting to change. We've embraced new technologies and ways of working. It is time once again to reimagine.

HAYES LARGE ARCHITECTS

reINVENTING for 100 and Beyond

In October of 2014, we realized that we had to change our way of doing business. We made the difficult decision to file for protection under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Act. Our goal was simple—reorganize Hayes Large, a legacy firm with an incredible body of work touching many communities, in order to rebuild and thrive again. We are very much in operation, and should emerge from Chapter 11 this fall. We look forward to celebrating our 100th Anniversary in May 2022 as we continue to build for a strong future.

To achieve that goal, we've made some important changes:

1 We've gone back to our roots, focusing on what we do best: Helping our clients reinvent, renew, reimagine.

Time and again, we've helped clients revive a great old building. We understand when it's time to tear down, and to build new. As times change, we help facilities change with them.

2 We are rebuilding our core strengths: Architecture, Planning, Sustainability, Interior Design and Construction Administration.

Streamlining allows us to team with the right experts for each client and project. And we're committed to earning the trust of everyone we work with.

3 We now offer:

- Architects and Interior Designers with decades of experience in education, wellness, retail, religious, government, library, residential and design-build projects. Special expertise in tough renovations.
- LEED accredited professionals to create green, energy-efficient buildings.
- One of the leading ADA experts in the country.
- CAD and BIM strength including visioning for planning and fundraising.
- Building envelope and roofing expertise.
- Construction administration by veteran architects and builders.
- Pennsylvania and Virginia offices: Altoona, PA and Reston, VA.
- Teaming to provide expert services as Architect of Record; K12 designers; LEED coordinators; and Pennsylvania PlanCon consultants.

As we reinvent our business, we are looking for opportunities to provide innovative services tailored to current market needs. Please phone or email me with any input or questions. I would welcome a personal meeting to share information and discuss ways we can be of service.
